HORTY  SPRINGER

Jointly sponsored by the University of Pittsburgh School of Medicine Center for Continuing Education in the Health Sciences and HortySpringer Seminars.

The University of Pittsburgh is an affirmative action, equal opportunity institution.

TOPICS

After decades of ineffective and inefficient peer review, a new day has dawned for many Medical Staffs! Whether the issue is clinical, conduct, health, or utilization, The Peer Review Clinic has a plan for you to:

- (1) Create new processes that achieve the two major goals of peer review: enhancing patient safety/quality of care and promoting practitioner success for both physicians and APPs, and
- (2) Demonstrate to your Medical Staff that modern peer review is the way that practitioners learn from each other and improve systems of care, and that the process is pro-patient, not anti-physician!

The Peer Review Clinic is high energy and engaging, filled with real-life case studies, videos, and interactive presentations, and packed with practical, experience-tested tips and tools that you can take home and immediately put to use!

Join us and explore modern and constructive peer review and head back home with answers to questions such as:

- What are the common and traditional problems that generally condemn a peer review process to failure? (At the top of that list is “scoring”!)
- What specific techniques have been demonstrated to constructively resolve clinical issues, behavior concerns, health challenges, and utilization problems? Which common approaches do NOT work?
- Do the rules change when a physician is employed by the Hospital (or by an exclusive contract provider)?
- What is a Leadership Council and should we have one? (YES!)
- Is there any role for Clinical Departments in a modern process? (YES! They can play an important role in providing specialty expertise, but some oversight is necessary!)
- Who are the best individuals to serve on a Multi-Specialty Peer Review Committee? Who should NEVER serve on the committee?
- Why should the MEC and Board play almost no role in routine, ongoing performance issues?
- Does the “traditional way” of managing conflicts of interest work? (NO!)
- What concrete, practical steps best prevent retaliation against individuals who raise concerns?
- How can we help practitioners become effective case reviewers and Medical Staff leaders? (Hint: Several straightforward tips, education, and new case review forms!)
- How does the National Practitioner Data Bank Guidebook impact our process?
- Why do utilization management and medical necessity need to be core components of a modern process when traditionally they have not?
- What options do we have for handling the red hot/white hot issue of aging practitioners?
- What about ambulatory peer review?
- And many, many more!

FACULTY/ACCREDITATION

Ian Donaldson

Mr. Donaldson is a partner with the law firm of Horthy, Springer & Mattern, P.C. in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. He devotes his practice exclusively to health care law, working with physician and hospital leaders on various medical staff issues, including credentialing and peer review matters. He also works with medical groups on developing and managing peer review processes.

Ian is a current faculty member of HorthySpringer's The Peer Review Clinic and previously served as a faculty member of The Credentialing Clinic and The Complete Course for Medical Staff Leaders seminars. He also served on the faculty of ACOG's Quality and Safety for Leaders in Women's Health Care postgraduate course for several years.

Ian earned his B.S. in Economics from Penn State University. He earned his J.D. and Certificate in Health Law from the University of Pittsburgh School of Law.

Charles Chulack

Mr. Chulack is a partner with the law firm of Horthy, Springer & Mattern, P.C. in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, where his work is devoted exclusively to advising hospitals and physician leaders on a wide range of topics, including medical staff issues, Medical Staff Bylaws and associated documents, compliance with federal and state law and regulations and accreditation standards, and employment matters. In addition, he represents hospitals in litigation on topics such as contractual disputes, physician hearing and appeal rights, and immunity under state and federal law.

Mr. Chulack is currently a faculty member for the HorthySpringer seminar The Peer Review Clinic and was previously a faculty member for Credentialing for Excellence. He frequently provides individualized on-site and virtual educational programs on credentialing, privileging, peer review, professionalism, practitioner health, investigations, and other medical staff topics for hospitals and medical staffs across the country. He has done numerous presentations for legal organizations including the American Health Law Association and the Pennsylvania Bar Institute.

Mr. Chulack is an editor of the firm's Health Law Express, a weekly e-newsletter on the latest health law developments. Mr. Chulack also served as an editor for the fourth and fifth editions of the American Health Law Association Peer Review Guidebook and the first edition of the American Health Law Association The Complete Medical Staff, Peer Review, and Hearing Guidebook. He has published articles in Bloomberg's Health Law Reporter, Duquesne Law Review, and Allegheny County Bar Association's Lawyer's Journal.

Mr. Chulack is a member of the Allegheny County Bar Association and the American Health Law Association and is admitted to practice in front of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court and the United States District Court for the Western District of Pennsylvania.

EDUCATIONAL INTENT

Peer review should do more than review the past - it should improve what happens next. The best peer review processes don't just evaluate individual performance. They uncover system issues, strengthen patient safety, and create a culture where learning is shared, not siloed.

At The Peer Review Clinic, you'll learn how to build a process that:

- Promotes fair, consistent, and educational practitioner reviews.
- Identifies the system and process issues that impact patient care.
- Turns every review into lessons that strengthen your entire organization.

Through engaging faculty, real-world case studies, and practical strategies drawn from years of experience, you'll leave with tools and proven strategies you can put to work the moment you return to your organization.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?

- Medical Staff Officers
- Department Chairs
- CMOs and VPMAs
